Term 3 Week 6

FROM MR JONES

This week marked the celebration of Book Week, culminating in a wonderful Assembly featuring our captivating Book Fair parade. The presence of preschoolers, parents, and community members added to the joy of the event, as they joined us not only for the book parade and assembly, but also to share reading time with the students.

Well done to goes to Tom for running the assembly. Following the assembly, we divided into groups to engage in reading activities as part of the Book Week festivities.

Our visit to Grenfell was truly memorable, as we spent quality time at the MPS enjoying morning tea and interacting with the residents. During this visit, students from K-2 presented the lively performance "Go Home Cheeky Animals," while Eddie introduced Emily and Olivia to the residents. Emily and Olivia had the opportunity to share their written pieces, which they had diligently crafted for Book Week. Our heartfelt gratitude goes to the Grenfell MPS for extending their warm invitation to us; it was a delightful experience.

Looking ahead, Ms. Bradley is set to participate in a professional learning session next week. Additionally, we are excited to welcome back Ms. Harvey, who will be leading the K-2 class on Monday and Tuesday. Ms. Bradley's absence is due to her engagement in Berry Street training, a program designed to equip educators with a comprehensive toolkit of over 100 practical strategies that can be readily applied in the classroom and throughout the school. This training is centered around the Berry Street Education Model (BSEM) and emphasizes trauma-informed teaching practices, fostering positive teacher-student relationships, implementing effective behavior management techniques, and promoting strengths-based approaches. The goal is to enhance student engagement, academic achievement, and overall well-being by integrating these principles into our teaching methods. This training is sure to be highly advantageous for our students, as it equips our teachers with valuable skills.

We would like to remind everyone that Bland Sports will be taking place at Quandialla Public School on Friday, September 8th, 2023. Permission slips were distributed yesterday; kindly return them to the school at your earliest convenience. If you require assistance with transporting your child to and from the carnival, please reach out to the school. Students should be dressed in their complete school uniforms, and sports shirts will be sent home before the event.

LPSSA Awards

At Friday's Assembly, Mr. Jones had the honor of awarding certificates to Matilda, Jessie, April, and Indi in recognition of their achievements of at the Lachlan Athletics Carnival held on Friday, August 11th.

Science with Ms Bradley

The students in the K-2 class had an incredibly enjoyable experience in their science lessons this week, where they delved into the exploration of forces acting on water. Engaging with materials like foil, paper, straws, and paper, they enthusiastically constructed boats to investigate their buoyancy and the influence of various forces on them.
